

March 23, 2010

By Enterprise Staff

City's budget earns national award

The City of Livingston's fiscal year 2009-2010 budget has earned it the Distinguished Budget Presentation Award from the Government Finance Officers Association.

The Government Finance Officers Association is a Chicago-based nonprofit professional organization for people in the finance industry.

City Manager Ed Meece on Monday said the award, which the city received last month, is acknowledgment for "a job well done" by the city's finance administrators, Finance Director Miral Gamradt and Accountant Jessie Hogg. The award assesses how well a budget functions as "policy document, a financial plan, an operations guide and a communications device," according to a press release from the finance association.

The city's budget is available online at www.livingstonmontana.org.